A cream of tartar baking powder—Highest of all in leavening strength.—

Latest U. S. Gov't Food Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Established by Government Tests the Standard Baking Powder. The very Giant of leavening agents. Has a larger use than all other cream of tartar baking powders combined.

Prof. HAINES, of Rush Medical College, Consulting Chemist Chicago Board of Health: "I find the Royal Baking Powder superior to all the others in every respect."

Dr. H. A. MOTT, U. S. Government Chemist: "The Royal is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder made."

Prof. PALMER, University of Illinois: "I find Royal Baking Powder invariably composed of wholesome ingredients, entirely free from adulteration or impurities of any kind."

SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH: "In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger baking powder than the Royal."

The N. Y. STATE ANALYST: "The Royal Baking Powder is superior to any other powder which I have examined."

THE MINNESOTA STATE CHEMIST: "I consider the Royal one of the best baking powders made."

WISCONSIN FOOD COMMISSIONER: "Royal Baking Powder is of high and uniform strength and quality; its ingredients pure and wholesome."

INDIANA STATE CHEMIST: "Royal Baking Powder is perfectly free from any deleterious or injurious substance."

Avoid all baking powders that require larger cans than the Royal to hold an equal weight. This is sure evidence of their adulteration.

The Coming Man.

A pair of very chubby legs,
Encased in scarlet hose,
A belt of little sun by boots,
With rather doubtful lace,
A little kilt, a little coat,
Cut out neither one—
And lo! before us stands a man,
The future's coming man!

His eyes perchance will read the stars,
And search their unknown ways,
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open to their gaze,
Perchance their keen and flashing glance
Will be a nation's fate—
Those eyes that are now a feeble light
On some "big" thing to come!

Those hands—those busy hands—
So dexterous, small and strong;
Those limbs whose mission seems
To call all order down,
Who knows what latent strength may be
Slender within their dress,
Though now 'tis but a feeble stick
In sturdy hold they grasp!

And, blessings on those little feet,
Whose work is yet untried,
And blessings on those little feet,
Whose race is yet untried,
And blessings on the little brain
That has not learned to sit
Whisper the future holds in store,
God bless the "coming man!"

—GEO. A. LEWIS.

Mrs. H. E. Wellman,

No. 2 Linn St., Janesville, Wis., under date of June 16, writes the following: Kenyon & Thomas said: I was confined to my bed four months with inflammation of the right ovary had a good physician, tried almost everything, got very little help until I tried your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, about four months ago. It has done wonders for me. I can do quite a good day's work. I have every reason to believe that it will entirely cure me. I am also using your Dr. Hale's Household Tea with good results.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. H. E. Wellman.

Solemn Scene in Court.

The Paintsville Paragraph describes this impressive and somewhat novel scene in the Salersville correspondence.

W. T. Perkins, who was arrested on the charge of burning the barn of H. G. Arnett, had his examining trial last week before L. C. Prather, J. P. There were four lawyers on each side, and there were about thirty Commonwealth's witnesses, and every effort was made to convict him, but the court decided that the evidence was not sufficient to hold him over. Upon being released, the accused arose and made a declaration of innocence, and then asked the audience to kneel in prayer with him, which it did. At the conclusion of his prayer almost every one was visibly affected, some shedding tears, and he was congratulated by many. It was an unusually solemn scene, and one long to be remembered by those present.

Is Your Nerve Steady,

Or do you tremble and feel that you are breaking; that your nervous system is giving way. If you have a weak nervous system the very best thing you can do is to begin to-day using Dr. Hale's Household Tea. It is the finest Nerve Tonic known and will restore you to health and vigor. Don't delay. Get a free sample to-day at Carpenter's South Side Drug Store.

Editor Roundabout:

In your last issue "one of the boys" approves what I had to say in my last letter about "the boys." I will try and not offend any of them, if it is possible not to do so. I will not tell any of their names, unless it becomes necessary that I should do so, then not with the intention of injuring them, but with the sole object of doing them good. I mean by blows that their names must be called out in school. When a school boy I have been called out in the middle of the floor when I did anything very bad and made to stand on one foot for several minutes at a time. Every time the foot that was held up went to the floor it would get a cut from the tip end of a four foot beech or hickory switch, which was very humiliating on account of having been done before the whole school. "The boys" laughed at me, the girls looking at and feeling sorry for me. I learned in my life why this was done and am convinced it was for my good. The remedy was severe but the good that followed it, was certain.

Boys, O do not claim to be perfect. Perfection in any human being outside of Christ was never known on earth. We can claim in perfection. Try to do right, then if you fail try again. Never let imperfection become a habit with us. As I said in my last, habits formed, whether good or bad, generally stay with us, hence the necessity of forming good habits. I have always heard "it was hard to learn an old dog new tricks." The tricks had to be learned while the dog was young. The same idea, or rather the same fact, extends to horses. The owner of a colt who fails to harness him up and train it, that is make it exercise in all the gait, fails to make a first-class horse. The same with children. Now, parents, this is intended for you. When you fail to train in plain English, make your child walk in the paths of rectitude and virtue—in other words who fail to observe obedience from them in all things—run your child. The boys who are keeping late hours and carousing know they are doing wrong. Let me urge you to cut loose from all evil associates—not cut loose next week, next month or next year, but right now. This thing of putting off to some future time never amounts to anything. Promises made and broken, and continuously made and broken, there is not much hope for them who do it, but still I hope. The boys who will read this will know how continually I have talked with them, I have never given them up. When a young man loses his honor, fails to keep his word, things are getting mighty threadbare. Honor is everything to man or boy.

A young man promised me voluntarily sometime since he would never drink another drop of liquor. This young man was seen Friday night a week ago in a drunken row with eight or ten others, after midnight. All of them had to be put out of the house they were in by the chief of police, the chief having been called in for the purpose.

The young man spoken of has a splendid position and one redeeming feature in him is I saw him at church Sunday for the first time for several weeks. I hope and pray that he will do as he promised me he would. He is a bright young man and deserves a better life than he is living. I can say this not only of him but of most of the boys.

I saw two accounts last week against two young men, one of them a married young man, from a very questionable source, one for $12 the other $17 in the hands of officers, with instructions if not paid to bring suit on them.

I promised brevity and must close for this time.

Yours truly,
JOHN E. MILES.

To Attend the Theatre.

Arrangements are being made between the Kentucky Midland Railway and the managers of the Opera Houses in this city and Paris by which persons living along the line of the road can attend the leading plays in this city and Paris at a small cost.

To Compliment Miss Cox.

Miss Daisy Cox, the accomplished young violinist, has given her services willingly at all of the amateur entertainments given here lately for the various objects, and the amateur musical talent of the city, under the leadership of Prof. Wayland Graham, have determined to tender her a complimentary benefit at some time in the near future, as a substantial token of public appreciation. Miss Cox is endowed with wonderful musical talent, which she is ambitious to improve and develop, and when the entertainment comes off there should be a large audience on hand to encourage the young lady in her laudible ambition. A splendid programme is being arranged for the occasion.

Change of Management.

Mr. W. B. Moody has sold an interest in the Henry County Local to Judge Jas. V. Pearce, and the style of the firm is now Moody & Pearce. Mr. Pearce has long been connected with the paper in the capacity of foreman of the office, and we congratulate him upon becoming one of the proprietors. There are not two more clever gentlemen connected with the press of Kentucky than Will Moody and Jim Pearce, and we wish the Local increased prosperity under the new management.

Wants It Held Up.

Judge William Lindsay, of this city, is in Washington, and it was stated in the daily papers on Thursday that he had requested the officers of the Appointment Department at Washington to hold up his commission as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission until he should call for it. This is thought to mean by some of the Judge's friends that he will yet accept the position, though he has not as yet made known his intentions.

A Level Head.

Mr. Botts, Representative from Shelby county, in an interview published in the Courier-Journal, says: "The farmers are not here to block legislation, nor to attempt any thing radical. We are in favor of liberal appropriations, both for Capitol buildings and a World's Fair exhibit, but we shall insist that the money is expended for the purposes for which it is intended. We don't want to pay for champagne suppers or cigars on one for anybody else."

Shake, Squire. You are on the rock. Stay there.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "LaGrippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on Liver, Stomach and Kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with Sick Headache, you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Mrs. Emily Norwood, widow of the late Chas. Norwood, and mother of Mr. Jos. Norwood, of this city, died at her home in Louisville on Wednesday, and the remains were brought to this city yesterday morning for interment. The funeral took place from the Christian Church.

School-house Burned.

The school-house in district No. 15, this county, known as the "Sheets School-house," was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

Ohio Breeder's Association.

Mr. W. B. Fasig, Pres't of the above Association at Cleveland, writes: "I have known Quinn's Ointment for years, some of its cures have been little short of miraculous. For all enlargements that are just coming on, or of recent origin, it is infallible."

Coming Up.

The recent snows and rains have caused a rise of several feet in the river and drift was running at a lively rate yesterday.

The Bells Ring Merrily.

The ice and snow upon the streets have caused many a sleigh to be gotten out from the place in which it was stowed several years ago, and the sleigh bells have been merrily jingling for the past two or three days.

Reception.

Mrs. G. T. Blackley received her many lady friends Thursday afternoon from 12 to 2. Saxton's orchestra, of Lexington, furnished the music. From 8 to 8 o'clock in the evening she received her young friends in honor of Miss Eva Hoge.

It Got There.

Who says the goose bone don't know all about the weather? Just look up the predictions we made early in December from the breast bone of Mr. Alfred B. Read's Thanksgiving goose, and see if we did not hit the weather to a gnat's heel.

Filled Their Houses.

The present cold spell has enabled almost all of our citizens who have ice houses to fill them with ice four or five inches thick. The first of the week it was nice and clear but the sleet and snow of Tuesday and Wednesday damaged it somewhat, though the wagons began hauling again on Thursday.

Death of Mr. Church.

Mr. William Church, familiarly known as "Ruplus Bill," one of the most prominent and highly respected citizens of the Peaks Mill precinct, died at his home on Thursday morning, and was buried yesterday afternoon. He was the oldest brother of Messrs. Robert and James Church, who reside on the Owenton pike, three miles from this city.

The Old Original Remedy Leads.

Sick people should not be deceived by pretenders who talk about "Microbi," "germs," "bacteria," &c., to sell their preparations, thus preventing people from buying the original tested medicine. "Radam's Microbe Killer" is what you need. It is now, and for years has been, making more cures than all other remedies combined. Read their advertisement in this paper. Don't be deceived.

A Log Tide.

The rate at which the river was coming up yesterday afternoon indicated that there would be a log tide, and we may soon expect to see a large delegation of Mountain Boys in our city. As most of the mills are idle for want of logs, the arrival of a good lot of rafts would be a welcome sight to the employees of the different lumber firms in the city.

Senator Adams to Speak.

At the next meeting of the Garfield Club, Saturday evening, January 23, Senator Adams, of Somerset, has kindly promised to address the Club, nothing preventing, and it is especially requested that members living out of town be present to hear the Senator's address. Other members of the Legislature have promised to be present. All Republicans visiting Frankfort are cordially invited. Meeting in the Sower building on Main street.

On Thursday Mr. Haworth's great success, "St. Marc, the Soldier of Fortune," will be presented; on Friday, a double bill consisting of Booth's version of "Ruy Blas" and Gus Thomas' charming curtain raiser, "A man of the World." Mr. Haworth is, during the present week, in Louisville, where he has created a furor. Competent critics say he is destined to be Booth's successor.

Hunter presided and also acted as toast-master, while Will McEnnis did the slight-of-hand act with the quail on toast. Resolved, That the city press be requested to kindly publish these proceedings.

By order of Garfield Republican Club. C. A. NELSON, Pres. W. H. VAN WINKLE, Sec'y.

Born.

In Bellport, on Saturday, January 9th, 1892, to Mr. Charles McKinzie and wife, a son.

In Memoriam.

To the sorrowing mother and father of little Sallie Warts, who died in Louisville Saturday, January 9, 1892.

Dear father and mother—Sallie is gone. Her work is done; For she has left more closely the hearts already one. By the little hands spilt for a father's—mother's kiss. When she died she brought the meaning of the words "communal bliss."

Common joy binds hearts in union. With the silent cords of love; Equal grief brings sweet communion—Thoughts of her who is above.

As the sun's first rays Lit the cold earth's dome; On noisless wings the angels Bore her unfettered spirit home; Still they love it just the same, Still they love it just the same, That's the reason 'tis better keeping Than even mother's gentle care.

As you hear the cold coil is falling, And you know your child is there, Remember 'tis better keeping Than even mother's gentle care. Look up, father, tell me truly, Would you wish it back again? In this world so cold and cruel, Seemingly grief and pain?

No! you would not call that spirit From its home with God on high. To return but to inherit Want to each must come to die.

Then learn a lesson that is taught you, By your father and your God, When he chides, then he loves you, How the word, "pass under the rod." By your sympathizing friend, ARTHUR MULLETT.

Mother and Child are Doing Well.

Mrs. Brown was sick. Her friends said she would never get well. "What's the trouble?" "O, some kind of female weakness. The doctors have given up her case as hopeless. 'She may live for some time,' they say, 'but as for a cure, that is quite out of the question.'"
"I don't believe it!" said a woman, who heard the sad news—"I don't believe she's any worse off than I was, five years ago, from the same trouble, and I don't look very much like a dead woman, do I?" She certainly did not, with her red, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and 150 pounds of good healthy bone, blood and flesh. "I'm going to see her and tell her how she can get well," she said. She advised Mrs. Brown to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Mrs. Brown took the advice, also the medicine which cures all kinds of delicate diseases so common among women, and—got well. That was two years ago. Last month she presented Mr. Brown with a ten pound son, and "mother and child are doing well."

Fun Near Farmdale.

Editor Roundabout:
Friday night Rose Hill, the hospitable home of Mrs. B. S. Hughes, was the scene of much merriment and gaiety—a party being given in honor of Mr. B. S. Hughes, Jr., who entertained quite a number of his friends. The house was brilliantly lighted and beautifully decorated. Miss Lucile Hughes looked regally beautiful in white silk, received the guests most cordially. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Dora Hughes, a lovely debutante, clad in a robe of white. Miss Cora Blakemore, gowned in black silk entrain, won all hearts by her sweet gracious manners, and Miss Lizzie Howlett, one of the society girls of Richmond, Va., and whose stately bearing and sweet manners were admired by all and soon won many friends, was clad in a robe of deepest black. These young ladies, with the assistance of Cadet Ben Hughes, received the guests and were ever on the alert to promote the happiness of the gay throng. Dancing was indulged in until about twelve when the hospitable host appeared at the doorway and very amusingly announced supper. They repaired to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with mistletoe. Tees, fruits and the delicacies of the season were served.
Among the guests was the beautiful Miss Flossie French in black, Miss Lulu Hughes with her sweet face and winning manners, was declared charming in a street costume. Miss Janie Dehoney, in blue Bedford cord was the center of an admiring group, Miss Sallie Theobald was bewitching in a Lord Fauntleroy costume. Miss Josephine Hughes, in light blue cashmere, was admired no little. Miss Lou Drane was thought lovely in cream. The charming Miss Nettie Walcutt was clad in black silk with natural flowers, and others well known in Frankfort society attended. Among the gallant beaux were the familiar faces of Messrs. Robert, Marvin and Will Averill and Ed. Bull, of Frankfort, Cadets Fry, Wilburn, Baylis, Crockett and Meadow.

The gay festivities were kept up until the " wee small" hours of the morning when the guests reluctantly departed declaring it to be one of the jolliest entertainments of the season.

Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Valparaiso, and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., each gained 30 pounds from taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vista, Ind., was cured of 40 or 60 convulsions a day, and much head ache, dizziness, backache and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottles, and fine book of marvelous cures free at J. W. Gayle's, who recommends and guarantees this unequalled remedy.
